DUDLEY H. TURNER PASSES AWAY.

Well Known Druggist Died Sunday Evening at 5 O'Clock.

Dudley H. Turner, one of Towanda's oldest and best known business men died on Sunday evening at 5 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Stevens on York avenue following a stroke of apoplexy which he suffered Saturday. He was at the Turner drug store Saturday morning, and about 9 o'clock became ill and was taken home. His condition became worse and a stroke of apoplexy followed, ending in his death at 5 o'clock Sunday evening

Dudley H. Turner was born in Newfield, N. Y., on Jan. 16, 1846, therefore being in his 65th year. He graduated from a College of Pharmacy in Philadalphia, and for a number of years was employed as a drug clerk in the Porter drug store.

In 1872 with W. G. Gordon, the present Prothonotary of Bradford county, Mr. Turner formed a partnership and engaged in the drug business in the Patton block where the Turner drug store is now located. The firm of Turner & Gordon continued in business until the Fall of 1898 when Mr. Gordon disposed of his interest, since which time the store has been conducted by Mr. Turner, and for the past few years his son, Dudley B. Turner has been associated with him in the management of the store which is one of the best known and best patronized in this section.

Deceased was a gentleman of culture and refinement, unassuming in manner and the possessor of many warm friendship. He was loyal to his friends, and went through life esteemed and respected by all who knew him. It can be said of him that he was a good citizen, an upright business man, and a gentleman in every sense of the word. Those who knew him best appreciated his true worth, and his passing will be noted with deep regret by numberless friends and acquaintances.

He is survived by three children, Mrs. George Stevens, Hulett M. Turner, and Dudley B. Turner; also two brothers, D. M. Turner and Charles H. Turner, all of Towanda, and a half sister, Mrs. A. T. Still of Kirksville, Mo.

OWEGO YOUNG MAN WILL FIGHT EXTRADITION.

Does Not Want to Come Back to New York State and Answer Charge.

Frederick G. Pumpelly, of Owego, the young man under arrest in Boston on a charge of stealing the original survey plans and maps of Tioga county, New York, will fight extradition. He is now out on $500 bonds, has a good position in Boston with a typewriter concern and declares that he will not return to the Owego police without a fight. Pumpelly said. "The maps never belonged to the county. They were only loaned by my family. I came into possession of the maps peacefully and feel that there is something behind this arrest other than an object to prosecute me on the map affair."

Pumpelly had no difficulty in securing bail when arrested. He admits that he has the maps.

Considerable interest has been aroused in connection with the case.

Flim Flam Game.

It is said that a number of farmers living in the town of Jerusalem, near Watkins, N. Y., ran up against one of the biggest flim-flam games in the country a short time ago. Following the exhibition car sent to Watkins by the Great Northern Railway in which was exhibited oat straw five feet high a number of agriculturist pooled and sent to a western grain dealer for a car of seed oats. The car was received in due time, and the oats looked unusually nice. The last of March or the first of April some of them planted their oats, and sat down and waited for them to grow. They waited in vein, however, for never an oat appeared above the ground. Investigation showed that the seed had been kiln dried, which destroyed its germinant power.

For the Veterans.

To enable the old soldiers to meet the greatly increased cost of living, a bill was introduced in the House on Monday to make a horizontal increase in all pensions not in excess of $20 monthly. The reason this bill is being urged now is that a great number of the pensioners are declared to be in actual want because of the increased cost of living.

Barcus, Miss Mary Gordon and Miss Anna Fenbush attended the meeting of the Elmira District Woman's Foreign Missionary Society in Elmira Thursday, as representatives of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Towanda. Miss Gordon read a very interesting paper on "The Value of Young People's Work" during the meeting, and Mrs. Abell's paper entitled "Orphanages" was equally interesting.

PENNSYLVANIA WILL HAVE A FARM FOR BUG TESTING.

Prof. Surface Will Have A Tract of Land For Experimenting.

State officials are considering several small farms in the vicinity of Harrisburg that have been offered to the Department of Agriculture under lease for experimental work, such as State Economic Zoologist H. A. Surface has been conducting in past years at his Mechanicsburg farm. It is believed that a deal for one of the places offered will be closed soon.

This plan was advanced by Governor Edwin S. Stuart, after the investigation a couple of months ago of the charges brought against Surface by A. F. Satterthwait, whom Surface had deposed as assistant economic zoologist.

According to Surface's own testimony at the hearing, the experimental work he conducted at his place cost him several hundred dollars out of his own pocket.

When Governor Stuart heard about this he decided that state experiments upon the private property of an official should cease, because the state cannot expect its employes to carry on work of an official character at their own expense.

The experimental work on Surface's farm was stopped last November, according to Surface himself, because he could not stand the personal expense any longer, and the implements and materials owned by the state laid idle at his place all winter.

STEPHEN PECHOWSKY HELD TO U. S. GOURT

Will Appear For Trial in Williamsport Next Month.

Stephen Pechowsky, charged by the U. S. Government with breaking the seal and entering a bonded car, was given a hearing in Towanda Tuesday afternoon before John W. Mix, United States Commissioner for the Middle District of Pennsylvania, and held for U. S. District Court which convenes in Williamsport on the second Monday in June. In default of $500 bail the defendant was taken to Williamsport on the S. & N. Y. train last evening by Deputy United States Marshall J. W. Snyder of Scranton, and placed in the county jail at that place to await the calling of his case in court.

The car which was broken open is owned by the Grand Trunk railway and was loaded with bran enroute from Kewater, Ont., to Port of Luth, Scotland. On the evening of May 6 the car was standing in Sayre yards ready for transit, some repairs having been made to it a day or two before. After the repairs were made a United States custom officer sealed the car with government seals and the Lehigh Valley seal was also put on. This car and a number of other cars were made up into a train that night and placed in charge of Lehigh Valley Conductor L. M. Bostwick. Conductor Bostwick checked all the cars in his train which left Sayre yards about 2:15 a. m., and found them all properly sealed.

When the train passed Rummerfield going East, the station agent notified Conductor Bostwick that a bonded car near the head end of his train had been broken open and that two or three bums were in the car. At Laceyville Conductor Bostwick and the rest of the train crew went back to the car and found Pechowsky in the car asleep and took him into custody. Telegrams were sent to the Lehigh officials at Wilkes-Barre and when the train reached Coxton yards Pechowsky was placed under arrest and taken back to Sayre where he was placed in the lockup.

Pechowsky alleges that he did not break the seal before entering the car but a man opened the door and helped him into the car. He says that he had been working in Ithaca as a bell boy in a hotel and was on his way to Wilkes-Barre where he intended to fill a similar position. He claims that his father drew all his wages while he was working in Ithaca with the exception of 50 cents. He gave a man in uniform in the station at Ithaca the 50 cents and the man put him on the passenger train bound for Sayre, and he rode between the engine and the baggage car or what is known in railroad circles as a "blind baggage." When he arrived in Sayre he was penniless, hungry and without shelter or friends. He stayed in the Sayre station until the agent ordered him out and then sought some means of transportation to Wilkes-Barre.

After wandering around for a time he inquired of a stranger if there were any "coal freights" going to Wilkes-Barre soon and the stranger told him that there would not be any "coal freights" going east until morning but that a box car train would leave in a short time and he thought he could steal a ride on that. Pechowsky alleges that he walked down the track to where the train was standing and that the stranger followed him down keeping a short distance behind him. When Pechowsky had walked nearly the length of the train the stranger called to him to come back and told him that he could ride in this car. He says that the stranger was about two car lengths behind him and that when he reached the car the door was standing open. The stranger boosted him up into the car, pushed the door shut and told him to stay there and keep quiet. He soon fell asleep and did not wake until he was taken into custody at Laceyville.

Pechowsky is 17 years of age and has been traveling around the country for some time. His father says that he is incorrigible.

Pleasing Recital.

Miss Bessie E. Stroud of Wyalusing, assisted by Miss Harriet Howard of Hometa Ferry, and Miss Pearl Lauderbach of Towanda, gave a recital in the Presbyterian church at Wyalusing Wednesday night. There was a very large attendance, and everyone was pleased. The Misses Stroud and Howard gave piano selections, while Miss Lauderbach sang a number of solos. These young ladies are talented musicians, and their recital last evening was one of the best ever given in Wyalusing.

Baseball Fans Attention.

Every person in Towanda interested in baseball should make it a point to attend the meeting in the grand jury room of the court house this evening at 8 o'clock at which time it is expected to make some arrangement for the promotion of the great national game in the City of Promise.

THREE TROY BUSINESS PLACES BURGLARIZED.

Robbers Make a Raid, Securing But Little Booty.

Robbers made a raid on Troy early Friday morning, burglarizing three business places. They secured but little booty. The places visited were: Murray's bottling works, A. J. Stuart's drug store and Charles H. Greene's general store.

It is believed that they first burglarized the Murray bottling works, securing a small sum of money, and taking the tools with which they forced an entrance to the other places.

In the Greene store they opened the safe, but found only a small amount of money. The safe and cash register in the Stuart drug store were both opened. Only a small sum of money was secured, as like Mr. Greene and Mr. Murray, Mr. Stuart left but little change in the safe and cash register. Entrance was gained to each place through rear windows.

Two strangers loitered around Troy on Thursday, and as they have disappeared, being last seen Thursday midnight, suspicion points to them.

The burglars were after cash only, as they disturbed nothing in the stores and bottling works except the safes and cash registers.

Horse Took Long Run.

Tim Lain of Doty Hill, drove his young horse to Wellsburg on Friday evening, and the horse made the return trip in fast time without the driver. Mr. Lain stropped the horse in front of the Ezra Lain residence in Wellsburg and was removing some things from the buggy when the horse took occasion to start for home, leaving Mr. Lane to get home the best he could. The horse ran up Main street and out of the village onto the home road in very fast time. The road happened to be clear until the animal reached a point on the hill road near Mr. Lain's residence when it met John Aber, wife and little son, who were driving in the opposite direction. Mr. Aber turned out and gave the horse the road, but the horse did not turn and the buggy to which it was hitched struck Mr. Aber's buggy, tearing the hub from the wheel. The horse made the two mile run without stopping and reached home without overturning the buggy.

Scranton's Smallpox Scare.

Scattered over Scranton and its adjoining foreign colonies are twenty-nine immigrants of various nationalities who were exposed to smallpox on their voyage to America. They arrived in Philadelphia a few days ago on a North German Lloyd steamship from Bremen and came direct to Scranton. How they evaded quarantine is not known, but Superintendent W. E. Keller, of the Scranton bureau of health, was informed Friday of their presence in the city and instructed to keep them under close surveillance until May 22.

Visiting in Towanda.

J. Howard O'Neil, who conducted the Bermuda trip subscription contest for the Towanda Printing Company, has joined Mrs. O'Neil and is spending a few days at the Hurley home on Poplar street. He has just closed a contest for the Syracuse, N. Y., Journal in which over $20,000 was received and over 10,000 subscribers added to the lists, making it one of the most successful subscription contests ever conducted by a newspaper.

Towanda's Advantages.

Says William T. Carey in the Waverly Free-Press: "The Sayre shop train, better known as the "dinner pail" train, is said to be one of the best paying investments on the line of the Lehigh. It arrives in Sayre at 6:40 in the morning and is loaded mostly with men who work in the Sayre shops and who reside in Ulster, Milan and Towanda. The majority of the men probably come from Towanda. They prefer to reside there, it is said, because of the cheap price of rent, and also for the reason that they say they can buy provisions cheaper."

Guild Meeting.

The Overton Chapter of the Westminster Guild met in the Presbyterian chapel on Saturday afternoon. After a very interesting program the following ladies served supper: The Misses Gertrude Holmes, Ruth Gunton, Eliza Overton, Marguerite Lewis, Ruth Reed, Helen Davies, Emma Gordon, Mary Pierce, Mary Dayton, Alice Meredith and Mrs. L. E. Frost.

Hazleton Man Missing.

Patrick, alias Sailor Ward, a well known man of Hazleton, has been missing from his home for a week. The family fears that he may have dropped into one of the many mine holes in the vicinity of Hazleton or met with foul play. He owns considerable property.

Made Deal in Quick Time.

Edward N. Moyer, formerly of Towanda, now engaged in grocery business in Laceyville, came to Towanda on train No. 1 Monday afternoon and a short time later he was driving around town with a fine team of black carriage horses which he purchased of Walter Biles of South Towanda. Mr. Biles advertised the team for sale in The Review Mr. Moyer read the ad, came to Towanda, and was just ten minutes in making the deal with Mr. Biles. He drove the team home last evening.

United States senators and congressmen are just human, after all. The other day when a circus passed the capitol the senators and representatives ran out to watch the animals and the clowns go by. Thanks to nature, their early education hasn't been forgotten in the hum-drum business of making laws.

For You To Judge.

Thousands of gallons of the L. & M. Paint are produced in one operation by machinery. Only chemically pure color is used. The actual cost of L. & M. is only about $1.30 per gallon when the job is finished. Will you depend upon this product, or a paint made by costly hand labor in a pot with a stick, producing a few gallons at a time; and at that very likely made with common earth paints, and questionable quality Linseed Oil. The L. & M. Paint is sold by Spalding Hardware Co., Towanda, Dewey Bros., Gillett.

WOULD TAX AUTOMOBILES IN THE KEYSTONE STATE.

Senator McNichol Will Introduce a Revenue Raising Bill.

Senator McNichol of Philadelphia, has hit upon another means of raising cash, though the suggestion is not original. McNichol proposes to introduce a bill in the next State Legislature providing for the taxing of all automobile owners, the money to be returned to the counties in which it is derived. The tax, says Senator McNichol, should be in proportion to the value and be returned to the cities whose streets and roadways suffer wear and tear by such automobile traffic.

The only automobile tax now imposed is that of the state for a license. This is a charge of $5 for all cars not over 20-horsepower, $10 for those between 20 and 50- horsepower, and $15 for all those over 50-horsepower. For motorcycles a license fee of $2 is charged. Recent reports of the State Highway Department, which has control of issuing these licenses, estimated the number of automobiles and motorcycles now in use in Pennsylvania to be about 15,000. Senator McNichol's suggestion of an average tax of $20 per car would net the state approximately $300,000 a year, a neat portion of which would revert to Philadelphia.

"Within the last few years" said Senator McNichol in discussing the subject, "motor cars have come into general use in practically every part of the state, and it is only fair that the owners should contribute toward the maintenance of the highways. What I propose to introduce is a bill fixing a graded tax upon all owners of such vehicles. For instance, I think that man who owns a machine costing $1,500 or less should pay a tax of $15. The man who has a car worth anywhere from $1,500 to $3,000 should pay a tax of $20, and the owners of a machine costing over $3,000 should pay a tax of $25.

"I do not know just how many machines there are in Pennsylvania, but I am certain that if the owners of all of them were compelled to pay an equitable tax to the Commonwealth the money thus raised would be of material assistance to the counties in maintaining public roadways. And certainly no class of drivers should be more interested in keeping up the highways or more willing to bear their fair share of that expense than automobilists. While I have not as yet worked out all the details of my proposition, I will have the bill in shape for presentation when the Legislature convenes."

Take Sherman to Asylum.

Llewelyn Sherman of Schuyler county, who was arrested here Saturday by Officers Curtin and Flahive after he had waded through a swamp in the northern part of the city, was yesterday turned over to his guardian, Albert Newell of Troy, Pa., by Sheriff Stanley Day. Mr. Sherman will be taken to the Danville asylum, from which institution he was released in November, 1903.—Elmira Advertiser.

NON-SUIT IN THE SAGE VS. LEHIGH CASE

Attorney Maxwell Raised Co-Employe Point.

The case of Grover Sage vs. the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, an action for damages for the loss of an arm, came to an end Tuesday evening about 5 o'clock when William Maxwell, Esq., attorney for the Lehigh, was granted a motion for a compulsory non-suit.

The case was opened Monday and after a large number of witnesses had been examined for the plaintiff, his case was rested and Attorney Maxwell asked for a non-suit, setting forth reasons, based upon the evidence of the plaintiff himself, who testified that he was ordered in between the cars by the conductor, and that the cars were not moving at the time, but the engine started suddenly causing him to receive the injuries which necessitated the amputation of his left arm.

Mr. Maxwell set forth in his reasons for a non-suit, that the Lehigh was not responsible for the actions of the conductor; that Sage should have gone around on the other side and worked the other lever when the couplers failed to open from the side on which he was when injured. Further, if Sage was injured by the sudden starting of the engine or the moving of the cars that it was through the negligence of a co-employe and not by the negligence of the railroad company.

Rodney A. Mercur and David E. Kaufman, attorneys for Sage will probably file reasons asking the Court to strike off the non-suit.

Court Adjourns.

The Sage case closed the May term, adjournment being taken following the granting of the non-suit.

Jilted Five Lovers.

St. John village, near Hazleton, has had some unpleasantness during the past week. A Columbia county young woman closed her term as teacher of a Butler township school and a farewell party was arranged for her. She failed to attend, and then it became known that she had jilted no fewer than five lovers during her brief residence in the village. A crowd of villagers went to her boarding house and "drummed" her, using pots, pans, kettles, etc. The ring leaders were arrested and five of them were fined $2.65 each and costs. The residents became much agitated over the incident, sentiment being divided.

Automobile Party.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Way, Miss Romer and C. G. Braund of Elmira, autoed to Towanda yesterday and took dinner at the New Park hotel. The trip was made in Mr. Way's new car. When the party was ready to depart on the return trip Mr. Way started to "crank" the engine and in doing so his foot slipped and he fell, striking his head on the sharp corner of the hood which covers the radiator. A gash was cut under his left eye which proved to be very painful. Mr. Way dressed the injury and the party started on the return trip to Elmira.

GREAT IMPROVEMENTS MADE IN AND ABOUT EAGLES MERE

This Season At the Lake Promises Much in Athletic Sports.

So many and such decided improvements have been made since last year that those who are now talking of Eagles Mere call it the New Eagles Mere, because there's a great many new things to be explored and enjoyed. Among these are two new and far-reaching paths, affording new scenes and new delights and adding famously to the already gorgeous rambles that the Eagles Mere country abounds in.

The Eagles Mere Land company has made decided improvements, too, the most noticeable being at the bathing beach. The bath houses and bathing pavilion have been moved back into the edge of the woods, having the effect of widening and enlarging the beach. New cement walks have been laid in front of all the bath houses and leading to the pier, and one also to the Forest Inn. The pier has been moved over so as to give more room for the bathers. The grounds all around the bathing beach end of the lake have been graded and grass sown.

The athletic field, which was put in first class shape last year, has also received attention and the old grand stand and bleachers have been torn down and new ones are being built. Dr. H. S. Wingert, physical director of the Ohio State university, and who is president of the Eagles Mere Athletic association, formed last year, will have entire charge of the athletics and water sports. Attractive medals will be given to the winners of the different contests.

The lake has been stocked with bass, lake trout, perch and sun fish, while addtional fish will be placed in the lake each year. It is expected that in a few years the fishing will be of the very best.

One of the noticeable improvements about the town is the large amount of cement walks that have been built.

While there have not been many entirely new cottages built this season, there have been a dozen or more of the cottages that have had additions and improvements made to them. A large new cottage has been built near the Forest Inn and the building formerly used as a studio and art building has been made into an attractive cottage.

The lake steamboat is now being painted spick and span and undergoing a general overhauling preparatory to the season, which will soon be on.

An inter-hotel baseball league will be formed under the auspices of the Eagles Mere Athletic association, and a series of games played for the championship of Eagles Mere.

WEATHER HAMPERS FISH SPAWN TAKERS.

Department of Fisheries Fails to Equal Last Year's Mark.

Unseasonable weather since the beginning of March will cause the field work of the State Department of Fisheries to make a poorer showing than last year. The results will be better than in 1908, but will not approach 1909.

The total product of the gathering of spawn of yellow perch and pickerel will be 400,000,000, which, of course, is some fish, but at the same time 100,000,000 less than last season. A similar shortage in black bass spawn is feared.

In a normal year winter in not fully broken until about the middle of April. Then the fish begin to spawn rapidly, and it keeps the entire detail in the field busy all the time gathering the eggs and forwarding them to the hatcheries. But this year March was a lamblike month throughout, followed by a wintry spell during April.

Not all lines of the work have suffered as have the branches devoted to pickerel and yellow perch. The pike perch spawn gathering in Lake Erie is far better than last year. This is the first year, also, that the Department of Fisheries has gathered the spawn of the wall-eyed pike, or Susquehanna salmon, from Conneaut lake, at least 1,000,000 eggs of this valuable fish being taken from that lake. About 2,000,000 eggs of this fish were also taken from the Pennsylvania section of Lake Erie, this being the first year that such eggs were gathered there, too.

The shad work on the Delaware river is booming, and from present indications it is judged that at least 20,000,000 shad eggs will be placed in the jars at Torresdale hatchery, which is 5,000,000 better than last year.

Commissioner Meehan, who is in personal charge of the field work in the Northeastern part of the state, has arranged to have the black bass spawn work start about May 21; the season for gathering the eggs of that fish will run until about June 15. In all six lakes in Wayne county will be worked.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT IN LEHIGH SHOPS AT SAYRE.

Chester Rupp Plunged From Firebox Into Pit.

Plunging headlong from the firebox of an engine to the bottom of a pit in the Lehigh system shops at Sayre on Monday morning Chester Rupp, a boiler maker's apprentice received severe injuries.

Rupp had been at work inside the firebox of Lehigh Valley engine No. 503. The engine was "stripped" and the tank was in another part of the shop. When he was through inside the firebox he started to crawl out headfirst. With his head and shoulders outside he reached upward for a "stay" and grasping that he thought he could pull the remainder of his body out. When his hips were coming through the fire box door his hand slipped from the "stay" and he plunged head first downward. The engine was standing over a pit and as a result he fell not only the distance of the firebox door from the tracks but also the depth of the pit about ten feet in all and struck on his head. His fellow workmen rushed to his aid and found him unconscious and with blood running from his nose, ears and mouth.

The workmen at first thought that Rupp's neck had been broken and they thought he would not live to reach the Packer hospital. But by the time he was at the institution he was beginning to regain consciousness. It was found that his scalp was lacerated in several places and he was suffering from concussion to the brain. It is impossible as yet to tell the exact extent of his injuries. He may have received a fracture at the base of the skull and if so chances would be against recovery. But if there is no fracture he will recover quickly.—Sayre Times-Record.

Hard Luck.

Says the Tunkhannock Republican: "Dr. T. G. Merritt, of Mehoopany, purchased a new Ford automobile of C. P. McKown the latter part of the week, but was unforiunate enough to collide with a shade tree before getting out of town, smashing one of the headlights and breaking a fender. The accident occurred on Susquehanna avenue, near the Hatfield residence, and was occasioned by the attempt to pass a team."

BASE BALL

Towanda will have a good baseball team this season. A meeting was held at The Review office Tuesday evening and action taking toward raising money and forming a permanent organization.

C. E. McCracken has kindly offered the Family theatre two nights early in June for benefit performances, and by this means it is hoped to raise considerable money. A number of people have also offered to contribute toward a fund, and such contributions are now in order.

New uniforms have been ordered, and as soon as they arrive a team will be selected from the material at hand, and they will be put on the field against Athens, Waverly, and the other clubs in this section. The team will be developed and by the "old home days" it is expected to have an aggregation fast enough to compete with any team in this section.

A permanent organization will be formed in the near future and nothing will be left undone toward giving Towanda a strong combination. There is plenty of material in town at the present time, including a number of professional players, and when the team steps on the diamond for the first game the most ardent fan will be pleased. The Actives and All-Stars will have a number of games during the next week or ten days for the purpose of trying out some of the material.

Walter M. Shelton, David Smith and George Rockwell have been chosen as a committee to arrange the benefit performances at the Family theatre Mr. Shelton will also act as temporary treasurer and will receive contributions.

State Defeats Bucknell.

The annual ball game between State College and Bucknell took place at Lewisburg on Saturday, State winning by a score of 2-1 in a ten inning pitchers' battle between "Jake" Northrup for Bucknell and Klepper for State. Northrup struck out 11 and allowed but four hits, two of them being home runs and game winners. Klepper allowed six hits and struck out nine. The city papers yesterday stated that State's two home runs were flukes, the ball taking a bad bound away from the fielder, but E. B. Sutton, manager of the State team while in Towanda yesterday stated that both hits were clean and that the batsmen had no difficulty in making the circuit. Five thousand people witnessed the game and yelled themselves hoarse.

Ulster Defeats Athens.

The Ulster high school baseball team defeated the Athens high school team at Athens on Saturday afternoon by a score of 7 to 6. Farrell and Morrow were in the points for Ulster and did great work and were backed up by superb fielding when men were on the bases. Farrell at third handled a number of chances n faultless style. Timely batting and good base running gave Ulster her runs. Cranmer and Myers were the battery for Athens and played fine ball. Arnold in the field starred for Athens by cutting off a number of well intended hits with phenominal catches.

Score by innings:

Ulster	0	0	1	1	1	2	0	0	2	—7
Athens	0	0	1	0	2	1	0	2	0	—6

Veterans Warned.

Civil War veterans are warned against the St. Cloud Soldiers' Colony which has been started in Florida. An investigator claims that the old veterans are being bamboozled out of their money by purchasing lots that are miles away from the town center, while the lots may be located in a cypress swamp or controlled by a turpentine company that has a ten years' lease on the pine woods upon them. A lottery draw adds fascination to the game and many veterans have been bled for several hundred dollars each.

Narrowly Escaped Being Burned.

While fighting fire Monday George Dubert of Centerville, had a narrow escape from being seriously burned. In burning some brush piles the fire spread to the woods. Dubert and several others were fighting the flames which had gained considerable headway when his clothing caught fire. But for the timely assistance of his friends he would undoubtedly have been seriously burned. As a result Mr. Dubert suffered a severe nervous shock.

Skemp Pitched Last Year.

L. N. Skemp, who is engaged on the soil survey in Bradford county, and is located in Towanda at present, pitched for the State College team last year and was in the annual game against Bucknell having a 14 inning battle against "Jake" Northrup, the Monroeton boy. Skemp was State's star twirler last year, in fact for three years. He says that Northrup is a good pitcher, and excellent all-around player.

Waverly Was Easy Picking.

Contractor Edward Whalen, aided and abetted by Con Sullivan, J. L. McMahon, J. O. Baker, Patrick Maloney and others too numerous to mention invited a number of Waverly gentlemen to Towanda and then defeated them in a "forty-five" tournament. The score was 60 to 48 in favor of Towanda.

DELEGATE ELECTIONS.

Saturday of last week was the last day for filing petitions to place in nomination candidates from whom delegates to the state convention are to be selected at the primaries on the fourth of June. The delegates elected at the primaries will place in nomination candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of internal affairs and state treasurer. It is evident that little interest was taken in the nomination of delegate candidates. The people do not seem to know, or if they don't know they don't care, as to the privileges they have under the primary ballot. The law gives candidates for delegates the right to state in connection with their names on the ballot whom they favor as the party's candidate for governor, but in the absence of a popular demand that this be done, the candidates will not declare themselves. As far as we have heard the delegates from this part of the state go uninstructed, and are left to their own choice in the selection of a state ticket. The Wilkes-Barre Record makes the following comment on the situation, and we believe states the truth:

While the uniform primaries have created greater interest in the nomination of candidates for municipal, county, legisaltive and congressional offices than under the old system, there is no greater interest in the selection of the delegates who make the nominations for the state offices. The reason probably is that the general run of voters take far less interest in the selection of state candidates than in their local candidates. They will not go to the trouble of ascertaining the views of the delegate candidates or pledge them to vote for the nomination of certain state candidates. Under the circumstances the state aspirants who can corral a majority of the delegates after they have assembled for the convention, or who stand in the favor of the leaders who control the delegates, are the men who will make up the state tickets.

STATE TREASURYSHIP.

This matter of the state treasurysship seems to be a hard one to straighten out. Treasurer Wright is in all right, the Supreme Court having decided that it was lawful for the governor to appoint at this time, but the question now is how long can he stay in? The Democrats are making preparations to nominate a state treasurer, and hold that the office must be filled at the November election because it will be the next general election following the creation of a vacancy. Treasurer Wright was commissioned until his successor shall quality. This leaves it open for him to retire at the end of one year or three. Many incline to the opinion that Mr. Wright was appointed to fill a vacancy and can hold office only until a man elected at the next general election succeeds him in due season. If this view is held, a candidate might be nominated at the June convention, but as the constitutional amendments provide that the next state treasurer shall be elected in 1912 and also that the term of Treasurer shall be four years there are apparent inconsistencies. The party leaders have come to the conclusion that it would be the part of wisdom to make the nominations and leave the determination of the question to the court. A decision can be had before the November election.

The editor of the Carbondale Leader is quite sure that this section of the state having been recognized in the appointment of a Susquehanna county man for state treasurer, it is all we will get, and that it is vain to hope that we will also be favored when it comes to picking out the governor. Bradford county has no gubernatorial candidates, but Republicans here would be glad to help along the boom of either Mr. Watres or Mr. Dimmick of Scranton, or of Judge Rice of Wilkes-Barre. But if The Leader editor is right Luzerne and Lackawanna county men may quit work right now. Maybe the Leader man is mistaken.

It is as plain as daylight that no such fuss would have been stirred up about the tariff if the late revision had not been coincident with complaint over the high cost of living. In order to substantiate the fierce assault upon the tariff from many quarters it is necessary to prove that it is responsible for the increase in the cost of the necessaries of life. In that the assailants are having a mighty hard job.—Wilkes-Barre Record.

The Athens Gazette says that The Reporter-Journal says that Congressman Pratt is a candidate for re-election and that he will be nominated and elected, and that that ought to settle it. The fact that The Reporter-Journal has said so doesn't settle it, but the voters will settle it in November. This district elected Mr. Pratt congressman once, and will do it again this fall.

The Honesdale Citizen says that Wayne county's congressional aspirations all seem to be in cold storage, but that that county ought to send a man in 1912 to represent the district.

Philadelphia hopes to have Theodore Roosevelt there on July 4 to lead the parade and make the speech of the day. Philadelphia sets her hopes high.

PENNSYLVANIA'S FOOD.

The seven million inhabitants of the state of Pennsylvania spend approximately $600,000,000 a year for food. This fact is brought out in the latest report—a preliminary affair—of Dairy and Food Commissioner Foust. When one considers that this is at the rate of about $86 a year or something like $1.65 a week for each person, not forgetting to count even the youngest children, the figures assume absorbing interest.

But the dairy and food commissioner's business is not wholly, even largely, given to collecting food statistics. His duty primarily is the protection of inhabitants of the state from "imposition by those who would deliver to them food products that are injurious to health, unclean or fraudulent in character," and from the report it is judged that he is doing it to the letter.

Special attention is given to ice cream, soft drinks, milk and kindred things forming the food or the little luxuries of the poor. In connection with this phase of the commissioner's work, these statistics are given:

Number of samples of milk and cream bought for examination, 4,082.

Number of prosecutions for using formaldehyde, or for watering milk or cream, 126.

Samples of cider vinegar analyzed, 141; prosecutions for adulteration, 45

Samples of lard tested, 365; prosecutions, 29, mostly for introducing paraffine or cottonseed oil.

Under the Rotten Egg act, 74 samples taken for analysis; prosecutions not stated, but many flagrant violations of the law were detected.

One-sixth of the 227 samples of ice cream found to be illegal, mostly because made of skimmed milk. This ice cream was sold from pushcarts.

Under the new act relating to non-alcoholic drinks, 148 prosecutions were pushed in 873 cases. Many injurious colorings were found.

Under the General Food Act of 1909 which applies to all food articles, including ingredients used in preparation, except those covered in special acts, 1,204 samples were analyzed, as follows: Two hundred and fourteen samples of bakers' materials and products; 329 samples of canned fruits and vegetables; 117 samples of catsups, sauces, etc.; 49 samples of fruit butter, jellies and preserves; 406 samples of meats and fish—both canned and fresh; together with a large number of miscellaneous food materials. About one-sixth of these examinations led to the prosecutions which were terminated during the year, viz: 229 under the acts of 1907 and 1909. In 1908 seven hundred and ninety-six general food samples were taken for examination and 101 prosecutions for violations of the food law were terminated. This shows that in 1909 nearly twice as many general food samples were examined as in 1908 and more than twice as many prosecutions were terminated for violation of the general food laws.

There was most activity in butter and oleomargarine, 1,428 samples being taken, resulting in 273 terminated prosecutions. It is noted in the report that the high price of food greatly helped the oleomargarine trade, but no fault is found with oleo when sold as such and not as butter. In his summary of the work the commissioner says. "Eight thousand five hundred and thirty samples of food products of various kinds, as above mentioned were examined during the year and 797 cases terminated for violations of the several food laws."

To do all this, the taxpayers of the state paid no direct tax, the amount received from license fees and fines having been $86,594.15, and the expenses $83,700.68. This is an unusual record and no other evidence of the activity of the department is needed.

NEED OF SOCIAL LIFE.

It was thought when telephones, rural delivery and other advantages were introduced that they would have the effect of stemming the tide from the country to the city but the tide, except here and there, does not diminish in volume.

Great as is the boon of these facilities they do not make up for the lack of social life in the rural districts, and that lack seems to be the weakest point. In former days, when the city was not accessible, the social instincts of the people were met and largely satisfied by the spelling bees, husking bees, singing school and, on their social side, the "protracted" meetings. But these things have almost entirely vanished and little or nothing of a social character has taken their place. Yet it ought to be possible to provide some attractive and helpful social recreation for farmers' families, and for that purpose the country school building might be utilized more of an evening than it now is. The grange has helped wonderfully, but there is still room for improvement. With the social problem solved in all probability the drift from the country will be arrested.

Fertilizer is to cost more and yet smell just as bad. The Germans are going to raise the price of potash, a principal ingredient of fertilizer, and as Uncle Sam's farmers are by far the largest consumers of this article, they will have to pay more for it. At present the value of the importation is seven millions of dollars. If the higher price would only insure a little less odor the infliction would be borne with less grumbling.—Williamsport Sun.

While many criminals are let go free by sympathetic juries, it is claimed by the friends of Helen Boyle, who was sent to the penitentiary with her husband, the kidnapper of the Whitla lad, that she was convicted in the absence of evidence and ought to be released.

The Democrats are grooming George W. Kipp of Towanda, again for the Congressional race against Col. C. C. Pratt, who beat him so nicely in the fall of 1908. It looks very much as if that experience will be repeated.—Tunkhannock Republican-New Age.

The Democratic party, in order to obtain a bare majority in the next House of Representatives, must gain 24 seats. In order to have a working majority it will be necessary for the party to gain from 35 to 40 seats.

Athens has set a good example in passing a law that the Fourth of July there shall not be spent in a way that will endanger the life and health of the people.

THE COMING CHANGE IN FARMING.

"Higher prices must prevail in order to develop the potential agricultural resources of the country," declares Professor Homer C. Price, of Ohio State University, in the Popular Science Monthly.

This is not consoling to the city dwellers, with whom the present high cost of living is a daily problem. But it is the factor, according to Professor Price, that will hasten the solution of the most important problem before the American farmer—the reorganization of farming methods that the changes in agricultural conditions are making "absolutely necessary."

From the beginning American farming has been extensive rather than intensive. This was natural, and indeed inevitable, in a country where land has been more abundant than labor. Under such conditions there is more profit in small yields per acre with a large acreage lightly tilled than in large yields per acre from a small acreage closely tilled.

The acre yield of American farms is proverbially small. For instance, of wheat, the universal crop, the American acre yield for the decade ended with 1907 averaged but 13.9 bushels, while in France it was 20.8, in Germany 28.4 and in the United Kingdom 32.6 bushels.

The American acre yield has not declined, but it has not increased so fast as in other countries. While the British increase has been 2.5, the French 3.2 and the German 5.7 bushels per acre the American has been but 1.1 bushels, as compared with the decade ended with 1897.

The change toward greater acre yield, which becomes not only possible but necessary as population becomes denser, has only just barely begun in this country. It will have to be quickened, for population is growing as fast as farm acres.

In 1900 we had, in round figures, 838,000,000 farm acres to 76,000,000 people, or eleven farm acres a person. Since 1900 we have added about 15,000,000 farm acres, but we have also added all of 15,000,000 people. Our farm acres, per person, have sunk to 10.5 or less. It is evident that the acre yield must be increased for food prices to decline or even stop rising.

Our farmers are not less industrious or skillful than they were. From 1866 to 1908 the increase of 100 farm workers' annual production of wheat was from 620 to 790 bushels, of corn from 2,460 to 3,180 bushels and of hay from 63 to 76 tons. But this was not enough to prevent higher food prices.

We see why when we look at the production of animals. From 1866 to 1908 the production of 100 farm workers changed from 250 milch cows to 240, from 370 other neat cattle to 550, from 690 swine to 640 and from 800 sheep to 640. As cattle are fed or fattened on grain, it is evident that higher meat prices are ultimately due to failure of the grain acre yield to keep up with population.

While the total volume of crops has so increased as to give an exported surplus of farm products rising in value from $208,853,748 in 1858 to $1,017,396,404 in 1908. American invention, stimulated by a scarcity of labor combined with an abundance of land, has tended to delay acre-yield increase and keep our farming extensive.

By the methods of fifty years ago it would take two weeks work by every man aged 18 to 45 to harvest our present wheat crop. Yet because of labor-saving machinery and other causes the percentage of farming to total population has fallen from 44.3 in 1880 to 35.7 in 1900, and is probably lower now. There are not enough farmers to keep food prices down.

Professor Price bodly asserts that there are not enough, because the profits of farming have not, until lately, been proportionate to the profits of other industries—that the gains of farmers, until lately, have been rather from increase of land values than from operating profits. If he is correct in his computation that farming has not returned, until lately, more than current wages and 6 per cent. on the investment it is evident that farm operation has been highly profitable, and we see why the boys left the farm.

Higher prices for farm product will draw more people to the soil and keep more there. With this will come a higher acre yield and an equalizing adjustment of rofits. But city dwellers must not expect to be able to live as lavishly and wastefully as in the past.

NO BALDHEADED WOMEN.

For some time the Dallas Post has been running a department headed "Crude Thoughts From The Editorial Pen." Maybe the thoughts are not so crude as the editor may think. One thing is certain: we take pleasure in reading the department which is alive with original thought. Last week the following paragraph appeared among many other good things: "Yesterday we were asked if we ever saw a baldheaded woman.

We answered "No," we never did, nor did we ever see a woman in her shirt sleeves with a cigar in her teeth and running into every saloon she saw. We have never seen a woman go fishing with a bottle in her pocket, sit on the damp ground all day and come home drunk. Nor have we ever seen a woman yank off her coat and say she can lick any man in town. God bless her, she's not built that way."

But do you know brother Anderson, some mere man has had the audacity to declare the reason why man becomes baldheaded is because he uses his head, and the reason why woman never has a beard is because she uses her jaw. Of course there's nothing in it, not much anyway—I mean the man's head.—New Albany Mirror.

Bind together your spare hours by the cord of some definite purpose, and you know not how much you may accomplish. Gather up the fragments of your time, that nothing may be lost.

The whole civilized world is keeping its eye on England just now. We venture to say the Euglish people will be equal to the emergency and that they will do nothing to delight their enemies or to confound their friends.

The United States Steel Corporation have put aside twelve million dollars as the nucleous of a pension fund which is to be paid to old and faithful employees of that company who will be pensioned if disabled, or when they reach a certain age.

GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION.

Probably the best argument in favor of the government by commission plan is the cheapness of graft that is demonstrated by nearly every investigation of municipal crookedness. When ever the searchlight is focussed upon a lot of scoundrels who have bartered away a city's rights or assisted in robbing the public till, it has been discovered that the men who have betrayed their trust have been purchased at astonishingly low rates says the Scraton Tribune. Disclosures in Pittsburgh have shown that the councilmanic grafter of the smoky city could be pursuaded at an average rate of sixty or seventy dollars a head. In the graft cases unearthed it was proved beyond doubt that no glittering fortune was necessary to induce the Pittsburgh grafter to go astray. He seems to have been as devoid of principle and pride as a common sneak thief. And this seems to be the state of affairs everywhere when the people get a peep into the workings of the municipal and legislative graft mills.

In the good old days, before the graft germ had a firm hold upon the gentlemen in positions of trust, it used to take a lot of money to induce an ameature statesman to go back on his constituents. The representative of the people hesitated about taking chances like those which, for instance, have brought so much disaster upon the men connected with the capitol graft scenes in Harrisburg. When an attempt was made some years ago to pass a bill at Harrisburg appropriating $3,000,000 to settle the famous Pittsbug riot bill—claim which was afterwards adjusted for $1,500,000—the leaders in the plan to rob the state could not rally enough members of the state legislature to put the bill through There were not enough crooked members in the body to pass the bill. But that was over thirty years ago.

It seems as though the best governed cities in the country today are those which have adopted the commission plan. Cities that have done away with the ponderous councils, which in every instance are composed of warring ward factions, and have placed the affiairs of the municipality in the hands of a few men who are accountable to the entire city rather than to some particular section for their actions. These men receive compensation for their services sufficient to enable them to devote their time to the affiairs of the city in a business-like way. At present time, even with an absence of the graft evil, the government of a city by councils is largely an amateur effort. No qualification is necessary to get a grip on the reins of government, save popularity in one's ward. The individual of mediocre ability who hustles on election day can at will become a member of the body of city fathers. He may enter with the idea of making the term in council a stepping stone to political honors elsewhere. The majority of coucilmen undoubtedly have this purpose before them. Or he may go in for the experience and the pickings that come his way. Some times these pickings might be considered legitimate rewards for faithful service. In other instances they may be genuine bribes. But in every case the compensation received by the councilman for his labor of love in the interest of the city is blighting. There is no doubt that many a man who has become a member of a city council with honest purposes at the start has developed into a cheap grafter with hands out for anything in the line of reward which he has gradually come to think he is entitled to.

Without doubt it is the growing indifference of the legislature and the coucilman for the sacredness of the trust imposed in them by the people that has aroused the movement for the reduction of municipal and legislative bodies all over the country. Whereever it has been tried, we are told, the government by commission has accomplished much in the way of correcting the evils. The government by commission if properly selected while it perhaps might be termed a professional office-holding body would be a profession that would not be regarded with reproach. The sentiment in favor of this change in the conduct of municipal affairs is growing all over the country and promises to be fruitful in good results.

The rural routes were established for the benefit of rural homes, or in other words, the farmers. They have proven a greater benefit and blessing to the farmers than was ever anticipated by the most sanguine. A farmer who has once enjoyed the advantages of the rural mail service would hardly know how to live without it. It did not come to the farmer, however, until he had many times earned it. The farmers are our heaviest taxpapers. What property they have is in plain sight and is taxed, while the city gents, at least many of them, who deal in notes and bonds are enabled to hide their wealth from the assessor. For a quarter of a century the mail has been carried to the city, not once, but many times each day. Finally the big heart of Uncle Sam has reached out to the men that feed the world.—Exchange.

Proprietors of moving picture shows in New York have made an offer to the Board of Education offering to supply moving pictures illustrative of geography, history and other studies for use in school buildings, beginning next fall. The will furnish both pictures and operators free of charge in pursuance of a plan of their organization to demonstrate the educational value of moving pictures. They urge that the use of moving pictures would make the pupils more interested in the studies illustrated.

A curious instance of the operation of the law in New York State recently occurred A farmer was prosecuted for selling milk contrary to be sold containing more than 80 per law, which provides that no milk shall cent. water and 12 per cent. solids. At the trial it was proved that the milk was sold just as it came from the cow. Now the Court of Appeals decides that was no defense, and the defendant was as guilty as though he had poured water into the milk. According to this ruling a dairyman must know his cows are producing what is legally termed milk.—Exchange.

FOR A SANE FOURTH.

Why not a sane Fourth for Towanda? Athens will have a sane celebration of Independence day. Sayre laughed at the idea, but why can't Towanda have a sensible observance of the day?

The Fourth of July is next to Christmas in the estimation of the small boy and it would not be right to put him in a band box and thus dampen his enthusiasm toward one of the big days in American history, but there is a way of curbing the youngsters and preventing injury, loss of life, destructive fires, etc.

It is the duty of every parent to see that the children and dangerous explosives are not associates on the Fourth of July. There seems to be a desire on the part of fireworks manufacturers to get a lot of noise and great danger wrapped up in a small and innocent looking package. There should be laws against this—there should be prohibitive laws against the manufacture and sale of any explosive of a dangerous nature, like cannon crackers, dynamite crackers, toy pistols, mortars, etc.

But best of all the parents should see that their children do not purchase nor handle such explosives. When this is done, the first big step toward a safe and sane Fourth will be taken. Down in the lower part of the state the pupils in a public school pledged themselves not to buy or handle explosives on the Fourth of July nor at any other time. Those children are on their honor and it is a safe bet that few if any of them break their pledge.

The toy pistol is another source of danger, perhaps the greatest of all A boy takes what is called a "cap pistol" and shoots paper caps. The noise is not great, and many people think there is no danger, but they are greatly mistaken.

The little boy raises the hammer, and not thinking pulls the trigger bringing the hammer down on the finger or fleshy part of the hand, causing an injury sufficient to make the blood run. It is only a scratch, not enough to make the little fellow cry, and so it is given no attention. A day or two later tetanus, or lockjaw has developed and the boy's life has paid the penalty. The pinch of the hammer of the toy or cap pistol is oft times as deadly as a bullet through the heart, and the suffering is more terrible.

It is asked what causes lockjaw in such trifling wounds, and the answer is easy. It is the germ in the burnt powder, or in other dirt which may get in the wound and infect the blood.

It is up to the parents to see that we have a sane Fourth. They who love the little boys and girls will take pains to see that they handle no dangerous explosives on the coming Independence day.

Let it make no difference whether Town Council says a "sane Fourth or not—let us have a sensible observance of Independence day. Let us keep the youngsters and dangerous explosives far apart.

STARTLING STATEMENT.

The startling statement was made at the convention of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis that from 20 to 40 per cent of the school children in large cities are more or less afflicted with consumption. Were it not for the fact that the figures have been gathered by reliable people it would be hard for us to believe that about one out of every three of the school children in the populous centers is in danger of a slow death from this dreded disease.

The responsibility for this condition is not placed upon the schools, which is quite encouraging. According to one of the leading physicians who attended the gathering the greater number of cases is contracted in the homes. This physician found that 74 per cent of 147 children examined and questioned by him came from homes that were infected. It would therefore seem that it is the average home that is in need of the attention of the sanitary authorities.

Children afflicted are a source of constant danger to the healthy children with whom they associate, but there is no way of remedying the condition unless school districts are wealthy enough to establish open air schools. Some of the more progressive are now doing this.

The Philadelphia Inquirer believes hat it is now in order for W. R. Hearst to let the people know whether or not he will support the new King of England.

Men who are anxious to keep their names out of the newspapers should think of that before they commit the offense which brings them into close connection with the police

THAT OLD RED BARN

I've wandered to the homestead, Jim;
I've seen the old red barn,
Where you and I, in boyhood dim,
Once played with "Gee!" and "Darn!"

The loft, them times, was sweet with hay,
The sunbeams slanted through,
And from their stalls the white and bay
Would nicker, "How de do?"

There ain't no Prince nor Whitey, lad
There ain't no bloomin' stalls;
Ther ain't no harness, good and bad,
A-hangin' on the walls.

There ain't no hay up in the mow;
There ain't no musty scene.
They keep their gasoline there now—
I'm sorry, Jim, I went.

There ain't no place to romp and hide;
It ain't a barn no more.
It's a ga-rage, all slicked inside,
With reg'lar ce-ment floor.

Them cobwebs soft that used to swing,
Them specks that used to float—
They're gone. There's not an old-time thing.
Not e'en a single oat!

Where Jed, the hired man, clumped round
With fork or broom or comb,
An oily, think'rin' chap I found
Had made himself to home.

He looked so strange, where Jed had been!
A leather suit he wore,
And curried off the blame machine
A-layin' on that floor!

It's changed, old pard. They've cleaned it up
Of cobwebs, hoss and hay.
It ain't a spot wher boy nor pup
Nor yet a mouse can play!

I wonder how those kids who live
Where's such a bleak consarn
Can get along; and what they'd give
To have an old red barn.

"ROCKING THE BOAT."

The pitiful tragedy in Luzerne county Thursday that cost eight young lives holds a warning that should not go unheeded. If someone had not "rocked the boat" those eight pupils of the Huntington Mills High school would still be planning gaiety for graduation day.

But someone rocked that fatal skiff. And someone else became frightened. Fear spread and eight young persons met an untimely death.

It mattered not that the boys showed bravery and tried to rescue their frenzied companions.

We idolize bravery. The whole world does. But there are times when a grain of common sense outweighs the heroism of an army.

As Summer begins to beckon and the ponds and rivers stretch out their alluring arms to pleasure seekers, it would be well to remember the penalty of carelessness on the water.

Many times fate may turn its back and ignore an invitation to claim the prize offered by those whose very recklessness is tantamount to a forfeiture of life. And then, again, this same arbiter of destiny may seize with each hand the forfeit of life.

We are slow to learn the penalties of carelessness. But with such a tragedy as that at Huntington Mills fresh in memory the toll of death in lakes and streams this season should be less than usual. It should prove an ever present warning against "rocking the boat."

Those who are fond of dandelion greens will be glad to know that they can be put up in cans and preserved successfully. A housewife gives the following directions: Cook about fifteen minutes in salted water, then put in can, cover loosely and set can in boiler and boil again for about one hour. Then close.

Superstition and distrust with which all societies known as secret orders were at one time viewed by a large number of people, was, happily long ago dispelled, and today the lodge stands as one of the champions of the home and family. Wherever society has reached a high state of development, secret and fraternal orders have their greatest stronghold.

KNOWN HERE.

H. C. Clair, Native of This County, Successful in Oregon.

The Evening Telegram of Portland, Oregon, has the following to say of the success of a native of this county:

"H. C. Clair, the new president of the Columbia River Loggers' Association, is one of the best-known of the younger Northwest logging managers. He is chief in the Twin Falls Logging Company, operating in Clark County, Wash., at the end of the Yacolt branch of the Northern Pacific. At this place the Twin Falls company has built up a great plant, which is regarded one of the excellent modern institutions of the kind in the Northwest. Logs are cut about Yacolt, handled on the company line and sent over the Yacolt branch to the boom on the Columbia, and thence towed to Portland or other manufacturing plants on the Columbia. Mr. Clair has been one of the most active members of the loggers' association, and his election to succeed the veteran, Albert Brix, has caused the members much pleasure. In the coming years the work of the association is regarded to be of even greater importance than in the past. The fact that an active young man is in the chair is reassuring to all who appreciate effort.

TERRIBLE CASE OF ECZEMA CURED

Body and Face Covered with Itching, Painful Eruption—5 Years of Suffering Beyond Description—Thought Death was Near.

WANTS WORLD TO KNOW OF CURE BY CUTICURA

"No tongue can tell how I suffered for five years with itching and bleeding eczema, until I was cured by the Cuticura Remedies, and I am so grateful I want the world to know, for what helped me will help others. My body and face were covered with sores. One day it would seem to be better, and then break out again with the most terrible pain and itching. I have been sick several times, but never in my life did I experience such awful suffering as with this eczema. I had made up my mind that death was near at hand, and I longed for that time when I would be at rest. I had tried many different doctors and medicines without success, and my mother brought me the Cuticura Remedies, insisting that I try them. I began to feel better after the first bath with Cuticura Soap, and one application of Cuticura Ointment.

"I continued with the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and have taken four bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and consider myself well. This was nine years ago and I have had no return of the trouble since. Any person having any doubt about this wonderful cure by the Cuticura Remedies can write to my address. Mrs. Altie Etson, 93 Inn Road, Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 16, 1909."

The suffering which Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have alleviated among skin-tortured, disfigured infants and children, and the comfort they have afforded worn-out and worried parents have led to their adoption in countless homes as a priceless treatment for the skin. Eczema, rashes, and every form of itching, burning, scaly humor are speedily cured by Cuticura, in the majority of cases, when all else fails.

Cuticura Soap (25c.), Ointment (50c.), Resolvent (50c.) and Chocolate Coated Pills (25c.), are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., 137 Columbus Ave., Boston.

COL. J. H. HORTON MEETS TENTMATE AFTER MANY YEARS

Had Unexpected Meeting in Philadelphia After Long Search.

The Philadelphia Press prints the following interesting story concerning Colonel Joseph H. Horton, a Civil War Veteran well known in Towanda and Bradford county:

"Memories of the battlefield, reminiscences of the camp fire, and wartime friendships were renewed when two defenders of the Union in the early 60's met in a Chestnut Street restaurant last evening.

"James B. Thomas, a captain in Company G, One Hundred and Seventh Pennsylvania Volunteers, Second Brigade, Fifth Army Corps, was enjoying his dinner at a side table. A much older man stopped and carefully surveyed the bronze button worn by the diner. A glance at his grizzled face was sufficient and a clasp or hands united two friends who had not seen each other for nearly fifty years.

"The late-comer was Lieutenant Colonel Joseph H. Horton, commanding One Hundred and Forty-first Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, First Brigade, First Division, Third Corps.

"Since being honorably discharged at the close of the Rebellion he had wandered through the New England States and time and again had made futile efforts to communicate with his tentmate. He is now living in Buffalo, N. Y.

"A more enjoyable dinner than either had contemplated and tentative plans for holding a reunion of comrades of the 60's completed the unexpected reunion of two war-scarred chums."

LYCOMING COUNTY SHEEP RAISER DISCOVERS REMEDY

Coffee Acts As Antidote For Laurel Poisoning.

William Gohl, of Salladasburg, Lycoming county, has made a discovery, the knowledge of which should be widespread. He is a sheep raiser of many years' experience and there was a time when he lost great numbers of lambs on account of their eating laurel. He has lost as many as six in one day from this cause and he naturally tried every remedy of which he was told, but still he kept on losing them until he found, by reading, that coffee is a poison for sheep.

Then he reasoned that it takes poison to kill poison and the very next lamb that he found with symptoms of laurel poisoning he treated to a half cup of black coffee, cold, and it was only a short time until that lamb was one of the livelist inthe flock. Since his dicovery he has not lost a single lamb through eating laurel, although some were almost dead when found, and he has applied the same remedy in every case.

Of course the coffee must be given from a drenching bottle, that is, a long necked bottle of almost any kind, and it must be made fairly strong and must not have either sugar or milk in it. If the first dose is not sufficient to cure, give another dose in two hours. Mr. Gohl has seven ewes in his flock that this year presented him with fifteen lambs that are now from four to seven weeks old and fine looking.

Ulster News Notes.

S. D. VanSice of the Battleship New Hampshire, located at Portsmouth, N. H., has been spending a few days with his father, J. D. VanSice. Mr. VanSice has been in the navy eight years and is now a first class machinist. He says the navy now gives every young man a fine chance and that he will stay until retired.

Elmer Alliger who has been attending a conservatory of music at Warren, Ohio, the past Winter, returned home Monday and will spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Alliger, before going with the "Black Hussar Military Band" for a tour of the country.

While crossing the bridge at Ulster place Tuesday afternoon on a load of hay which he was taking to Athens, Milo Merrill, a well known citizen of that place, in some manner unknown to himself, suddenly fell from the load and struck heavily on the brick pavement and was rendered unconscious. He was picked up by a young man from Elmira who happened to be crossing the bridge and taken to a physician's office where he was revived and his lacerations dressed. No bones were broken and he was able to drive home in the evening with his son-in-law, Mr. Catlin, who came after him. It was very lucky for Mr. Merrill that he was driving in the center of the bridge for if he had happened to have been near either side he would have fallen into the river.

Carey of Sayre, has been appointed administrator of the estate of Francis Kaspzak who was fatally injured on Sunday, May 8, under the wheels of a Lehigh freight train in the Sayre yards. LAW AND ORDER LEAGUE QUIZZES CANDIDATES.

Wants to Know How They Stand on Local Option Question.

The Law and Order League of Bradford County wants to know how the legislative candidates stand on the question of local option. Here is the letter from the League directed to the candidates:

To Messrs. George Moscrip, W. J. McCabe, and Charles E. Mills:

Gentlemen:—We are informed by the public press that you have declared yourselves candidates for the office of Representative in the legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and are soliciting the support of the voters of Bradford County to elect you to this office. Two of you are to represent this county in the Legislature and it is only fair that the people of the county should know how they are to be represented in the matter of those questions that are uppermost in the hearts and minds of the people.

Therefore the Law and Order League respectfully asks each of you to answer through the public press the following questions:

1. If elected to the office of Representative will you support legislation tending to give the people the right of Local Option?

II. Will you support all measures coming before the Legislature tending to restrict the liquor traffic and to promote temperance?

F. J. NILES, Secretary.

Never Missed a Roll Call.

Alexander Keefe of Athens, who tendered his resignation as secretary of the Bradford County Monumental Association, has been associated with the organization for more than twenty-five years, and officially connected with it for over a score of years, sixteen of which were spent as secretary without missing a roll-call—exclusive of four special meetings—and believes that with his service in the Army he has served patriotism much better than patriotism has served him. However, as the chief purpose of the association has been fulfilled, and as Mr. Keefe's health is not as good as in years gone by he concluded he was entitled to a discharge, requested it, which was given.

Plenty of Brakemen.

Says the Wilkes-Barre Times Leader: "That the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company has plenty of brakemen to work on this division is apparent by a large sign which has just been placed in the window of the trainmaster's office at the headquarters in this city. It was ascertained that within the past month there has been a steady stream of applicants for positions as brakesmen and that it kept the office force busy informing the men that there were no vacancies to do away with, the sign was placed in the door entering the trainmaster's headquarters."

CLOSE CALL.

John Litzelman Has a Narrow Escape From Death.

John Litzelman, one of the most progressive farmers of Cherry township, Sullivan county, had an experience with a cross boar the other morning which he is not likely to forget, and which might easily have resulted in his death. Mr. Litzelman had a large boar shut up in a stable and as he opened the door of the stable to drive the hog out it made an attack on him. The animal knocked him down and sank its tusks in one of his legs between the knee and ankle, the second bite the tusks struck the other leg near the thigh. Both wounds were long and deep. Had the hog followed up its attack Mr. Litzelman would have been killed, but after biting the second time the animal went away from him of its own accord, and Mr. Litzelman was able to get out of the enclosure.

Mr. Litzelman is confined to his bed but is getting along as well as can be expected. No one else was near and it was very fortunate that Mr. Litzelman was not killed by the animal.

Among the other building improvements discussed were a dining hall and more stables, but no definite action was taken thereon.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS.

Prof. Surface Tells How to Prevent Oats Smut by Preparing Seed.

"Our oats have been infested with smut the last few days. Could you tell me what to treat the seed oats with so as to prevent smut? If you can, I shall be very thankful."

Thus wrote a Juniata Valley farmer to Professor H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, to which request for information the latter replied as follows:

"Oats smut can be prevented by soaking the seed oats in a weak formlin solution, using one pint of formalin to thirty gallons of water, or in that proportion. Soak the seed about 40 minutes, having it in a sack, so that you can put it down into a barrel containing the liquid. By lifting the sack up and down, you can get the liquid to penetrate through the entire mass of seed. After it is well soaked, spread it on a clean barn floor and let it dry; then go ahead and sow it,and you will have no smut. If it should dry too slowly shovel it over occasionally. Exactly the same treatment is recommended for seed potatoes, to destroy the germs of blight or rot that may be upon them. Formalin, or formaldehyde, can be purchased from leading drug firms. It is commonly used as a disinfectant.

Married Half a Century.

Meeting Daniel Schermerhorn on the streets—as we do occasionally—one would not take him to be much past middle-age. But the real facts are, that his period, for on Friday, May 6, 1910, Mr. Schermerhorn and his good wife celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage. The sons and daughters, having kept tab on the event, had arranged to celebrate the occasion, and make glad with their presence the old homestead, from which they had gone out into the world, years fefore. It was an enjoyable day to all particularly to the parents, who for the day—at least—seemed to be carried back to times, when all were under the paternal roof. A good dinner was served, music was discourse and a good time had—it all making a decidedly pleasant day. There were present: George M. Schermerhorn and family; Mrs. S. H. Sloat and two children; Mrs. G. H. Lacey and three children; Laman and William Schermerhorn and Mrs. Anna Worden.—Laceyville Messenger.

THE ASSESSED VALUATION OF PROPERTY IN SAYRE.

What the Times-Record Says About Shoptown Taxation.

Sayre's assessed valuation for the year 1910 amounts to $2,174,100. This is shown by the tax duplicates. The amount does not, of course, include any assessment against the Lehigh system shops.

The largest ward, from point of valuation is the first, the assessed valuation of that ward being $729,280. The second ward stands second in point of valuation, it being $636,110. The smallest ward is the third, the valuation being $320,220. The valuation of the fourth ward is $488,490. If the Lehigh system shops are again placed on the assessment rolls for such an action may be taken if the Lehigh continues much longer to run a shop train to Towanda, that ward will be the highest assessed in Sayre.

In spite of the "legal excuse" of the Lehigh from payment of taxes on the system shops, that company still pays taxes on an assessment of $81,025. Real estate belonging to the Lehigh is held in the names of two subsidary companies, they being the Consolidated Real Estate company and the Pennsylvania & New York Railway & Coal Company. In the first ward the Lehigh owns an ice house and the old freight station which are held in the name of the P. & N. N., and being taxable are assessed for $4,575. Then east of the tracks, being the land used largely as a dumping ground the company owns 26 acres and two lots held in the name of the Consolidated and assessed at $3,310. In the second ward the Lehigh owns two double and 30 single houses, held in the name of the P. & N. Y., and assessed at $54,910. In the third ward the Lehigh owns a house and lot assessed at $975 and held in the name of the P. & N. Y. In the name of the Consolidated the Lehigh owns in the third ward the Cayuta Flouring Mill valued at $7,245 an ice house and 77 acres of land valued in all at $17,255.

The Sayre Land Company is a much heavier taxpayer than the Lehigh, the full valuation of the land company being $134,060. The company's valuation in the first ward is $38,350, in the second ward it is $83,510, in the third ward $4,680 and in the fourth ward $7,520. In the fourth ward the company owns about 20 acres of land, undivided into lots. In the second ward the company owns 53 acres east of Keystone avenue and 32 acres west of Keystone avenue that have not yet been plotted.—Sayre Times-Record.

The Times-Record insinuates that the Lehigh will be saved from paying a large amount in taxes if they discontinue the shop train between Towanda and Sayre. This insinuation does not sound well, for it is generally known that the Lehigh can run trains between Towanda and Sayre any time they choose, and the tax assessors in Sayre cannot say to them "you do so and so,orwewillincrease "you do so and so, or we will increase your assessed valuation."

CHANGES IN ELECTION LAWS MAY BE MADE IN THIS STATE

Many in Favor of Return to Old System Wholly or in Part.

A news dispatch from Philadelphia says: Numerous suggestions looking toward changes in the election laws of Pennsylvania have been collected by the commission authorized by the state legislature to codify and revise thes laws. Frank P. Prichard, the chairman of the commission, today issued a preliminary statement of the changes to be considered by the commission at a meeting to be held in this city on Friday, May 13.

Methods of nominating candidates, forms of ballots and changes in the conduct of the general elections are subject in which many changes are subbested.

In discussing the methods of nominating candidates Chairman Prichard said:

"Notwithstanding the fact that the movement toward primaries conducted by the state has been slow, steady and uniform, and that this system, in one form or another, has now been subjects in which many changes are adopted by more than two-thirds of the states, there is considerable difference of opinion as to two-thirds of the states, there is considerable difference of opinion as to the merits of the system and there are many advocates a return, either wholly or in part, to the old system by which each party was left free to make nominations in any way desired."

Regarding the form of ballot the report says:

"On this subject there is some difference of opinion among intelligent men. The substitution of a single ballot printed by the state and distributed only at the polls in lieu of party ballots distributed by the parties is now almost universal forty-one out of the forty-six states having adopted the single ballot. There are, however, many persons who advocate the return to the old party ballot system, and the first subject for the commission to discuss is whether the present system shall be retained."

MUST HAVE BOX TO RECEIVE MAIL.

Otherwise the Carrier Need Not Deliver the Letters.

If each of the 26,000 city letter carriers throughout the United States can be saved fifteen seconds of time the average wait to answer doorbell calls upon each of their individual deliveries of mail, the Post Office Department can economize to the extent of several millions of dollars annually.

This is the substance of a statement made by Postmaster General Hitchcock in a report submitted to the Senate by Senator Penrose for the committee on post offices and Post Roads on his bill which provides that after Dec. 31 next every place where mail is delivered by a city carrier shall be equipped with a suitable receptacle for such mail.

Senator Penrose also reported favorably from his committee other post-office improvement measures which he recently introduced, and which are calculated, if enacted, to reduce the deficit in the Post Office Department One requires that where insufficient postage is attached to mail matter it shall be forwarded to its destination and double postage be collected upon delivery.

Another bill reported provides that where the address of the sender of mail matter is given on the letter or package it shall not be necessary to advertise the same if it is not delivered, but that it may be returned within a stipulated time to the sender.

FOUND HIS YOUNG SON'S LIFELESS BODY.

Gruesome Discovery Made By Hawley Father Friday.

While crossing the Lackawanna river near his home at Hawley, Wayne county, Friday morning George Telton noticed a body floating down the stream and upon further investigation found that it was that of his own son who had left early in the day trout fishing. The grief-stricken father towed the body to shore and later neighbors removed it to the Telton home where but a few hours before his mother had kissed him a fond good-bye.

Just how the accident occurred is not known. The young man was an ardent angler and often spends the day along the trout streams in the vicinity of his home. It is thought that while crossing the stream on a fallen tree the youth fell into the water and was drowned. He was a good swimmer but encumbered by a heavy pair of wading boots he probably went down after a heroic struggle.

CONTENDING FOR TROLLEY.

Susquehanna and Montrose Both Busy Urging Their Claims.

A quiet war is being waged between Susquehanna and Montrose as to which one will be on the route chosen by the new Scranton and Binghamton Railway.

Originally it was intended to run the line through Susquehanna, but the promoters are said to have let the fact become known in Montrose that the line would run through the latter town providing Montrose would provide the franchise, right of way a station, all free of charge, and that citizens of the town would take $10,000 in bonds.

Montrose people, it is understood, have agreed to all but the bond proposition. They have agreed, it is understood, to take half that amount, and so the matter stands. In the meantime, the local press is pointing out the advantages of a route that includes this town.

Towanda Will Duplicate This.

Kelly & Steinman, who removed their glass cutting industry from Honesdale to this village about two weeks ago, began operations in their new location Monday morning with a force of workmen numbering between 50 and 60. Quite a number of experienced glass cutters from Honesdale and other places are employed, as are also a large number of townspeople who are learning the business.—Deposit Courier-Journal.

Work of the Wind.

The large four story frame boarding house of Ernest Miller at East Berlin, Wayne County, was razed level with the ground by the wind on Tuesday last. The building was 150 feet in length and was ready for enclosure. It contained 30,000 feet of lumber and 17 kegs of nails. The crash made when the building collapsed could be heard for some distance. The building was being erected on the site of the large hotel recently destroyed by fire.

Took Bad Fall.

John McIntyre was painfully injured in a fall Wednesday afternoon. He was removing the paint from his residence on William street, and was upon a scaffolding some distance from the grounds. The scaffolding gave away, allowing him to fall, strikking on his back across a timber. No bones were broken, but he was very painfully bruised, and will be laid up for some time. Dr. S. M. Woodburn attended him.

THE OLD RELIABLE RESIDENT MUSIC HOUSE,

EIGHT PUPILS DROWNED ON DAY OF GRADUATION.

Luzerne County Pond Claims Lives of Young Pleasure Seekers.

Six girls and two boys, members of the graduating and the junior classes at the Huntingdon Mills high school, 15 miles from Wilkes-Barre, were drowned Thursday in a mill pond near the school and four other boys managed to reach shore and save themselves. The drowned were all between 16 and 18 years old and had been busy during the morning preparing for the graduation exercises.

The pupils came to the school from miles around and carried lunches. After these had been eaten at noon, a party of the older ones, six girls and six boys proposed going for a row on the old mill pond. They embarked in two boats about 1 o'clock, 15 minutes afterward eight of them were drowned. The dead are:

Maud Sutliff, 17, of Townline.
Caroline Koons, 18, of Harveyville.
Ruth Donaham, 17, of Townline.
Iris Davenport, 17, of Watertown.
Kathleen Good, 18, of Watertown.
Rachel Thompson, 17, of Town Hill.
Robert Kinney, 18, of Huntingdon Mills.
Ray Dodson, 17, of Huntingdon Mills.

By a strange chance no one saw the embarking or witnessed the accident. According to the confused stories of the four survivors, who beside being stricken by the narrowness of their escape are overwhelmed by the catastrophe to the others, there was much jollity in each party; the boats pushed off close together, water was splashed by the oars and thrown by the hand, and there was laughter and shouting back and forth.

Out near the middle of the pond the boats separated and were several yards apart. Just who was responsible for the accident is not apparent. Some one stood up in a boat to change his seat—one of the boys, it is said; the boat rocked, dipped water; the girls got frightened and jumped up to prevent their dresses getting wet, and the next instant the boat had upset and all were in the water.

The second boat was only a few yards distant, and was hurriedly rowed toward the six struggling and shrieking in the water. Those in the boat shouted and screamed directions. In a moment it was on the scene of the accident. The next instant, so it seems to the survivors, this boat also was upset, either by those in it leaning out to grasp the drowning, or by the drowning ones trying to climb into it.

Of what happened after that they have only a confused recollection. Each says that he tried to save some girl; each was seized and dragged down by one or more, and each had to make a fight under water to escape and not one of them gave up the effort to save the girls until their strength was nearly gone.

The girls, dreadfully frightened, seized whoever was nearest to them, and went down struggling and shrieking.

When the bodies were recovered it was found that nearly every one of the victims was clapsed in a death embrace with another.

When the four survivors reached the shore, exhausted, they crawled as soon as they could to the road and gave the alarm. It was then too late; not even a ripple remained on the surface of the pond.

TO THE FARMER'S AID IN A GREEN MOTOR CAR.

Lehigh Valley's "Agriculturalist" Now Has a Green Automobile.

The agricultural expert, F. R. Stevens, recently employed by the Lehigh Valley Railroad, will make his tours of the farms in an automobile. The Industrial Department of the company has purchased the machine.

This is an innovation—the "latest wrinkle", in what is nowadays called railroad farming. The expert's duty is to go about among the farmers along the Lehigh Valley line, tell them of the most approved agricultural methods, and give general encouragement to farm improvement. The automobile will enable him to cover a much greater territory than he could cover by any other means.

Just as soon as the new car was bought it was taken to the shops at Sayre, and painted olive green, the standard Lehigh Valley color. It was also lettered in silver, like the Black Diamond Express.

On the front appears the words "Lehigh Valley Railroad," on each side "Agriculturalist," and on the back "Industrial Department." The machine has been photographed while standing in a field of alfalfa that was planted, under Mr. Stevens' direction, last year.

Mr. Stevens, who was formerly connected with the New York State Department of Agriculture, was employed by the railroad company about a month ago. In his present work he is receiving the co-operation of the Agricultural Departments of both the States of Pennsylvania and New York.

Sixteen Markers in All.

The nine markers for the graves of Revolutionary Soldiers in Bradford county placed last week make 16 to be received from the War Department by the George Clymer Chapter, D. A. R., of Towanda. Each marker bears the name, rank and company of the soldier. The War Department furnishes the markers free, the only expense attached being for the setting which is borne by the Clymer Chapter. The nine being placed this week include four at Wysox for Amos Mix, Elisha Whitney, Samuel Woodruff and Isaac Custer; four at Pond Hill for John Lent, Jesse Allen, James Drake and Stephen O. Allen, and one in the Stevens cemetery at Standing Stone for Jonathan Stevens.

Business Change at Granville.

James W. Merritt has sold his coal and feed business at Granville Summit to his son, Mark M. Merritt, who will do business on a strictly cash basis. James W. Merritt will spend a time in the west with his son, Lynn, the lawyer, who has filed on a tract of land in the zone of one of the government irrigation projects.

Band Concert and Festival.

The Rome band will give an open air concert at Rome on Saturday evening of this week. Ice cream and cake will be served. The public is invited to be present.

INTERESTING WAS THE ORCHARD DEMONSTRATION

State Expert Knuppenburg Gave Valuable Instructions.

On Tuesday of last week the second of the series of three public demonstrations by direction of the State Zoology Department was given at the Reynders Farm Orchard, at Sheshequin. The time was opportune for the work, the petals having fallen from the apple blossoms and the young fruit being set. The attendance was smaller than at the first one, but those present were more directly interested as actual orchard growers.

The object of Mr. Knuppenburg's second visit was to exemplify the scientific war against the codling moth and prevent the formulas of the arsenate of lead and lime mixture, of making a quantity and applying the same. Mr. Knuppenburg gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the subject in hand. He talked of the care of orchards in general of mulching, etc., and the possibilities of results of applied scentific methods to them in this state and section, claiming with care grow apples to compare in quality with those grown on the fruit-famed valley of the Hood river and Yakima in Washington state, at less expense, a very encouraging statement to orchardists. He stated the orchards of those sections were terribly infested with the San Jose scale necessitating their being sprayed six times annually, whereas in this state, the pest has no such comparative foothold.

The codling moth was taken up and its developement, habits and devastations explained, together with the beneficial effects of the present spraying in preventing wormy, unsalable fruit.

The apple tree boxer was also given attention and the dire work of this enemy of young orchards fully explained,beginning with the fig sting in the tender bark and boxing and terminating after three years of bark girdling, frequently causing to die in boring out to become the ueclus for another horde of tree destroyers. The manner of their removal when present was detailed and the preventive of a returning given i. e., simply paint the apple tree trunk for about one foot above the ground with white lead and raw linseed oil; the fly stings in that section of the trees and this tough coating is resistant to its assaults. Avoid boiled oil as it will kill the trees. The Reynders orchard will continue to be cultivated and treated scientfically under instructions of the Department and the methods employed are open to inspection. The third and final demonstration will occur next Fall at apple gathering time when the efforts of the State Zoology Department will be made apparent and results weighed in the balance.

Repairing Locomotives.

In repairing locomotives the Lehigh Valley shops at Sayre have established a new time record. For the seven months from Sept. 30, 1909, to May 1, 1910, one repaired locomotive was out every three and a half working hours. The Lehigh Valley repair shops at Sayre are the largest under one roof in the United States. The force of employes includes 1,000 men who work on locomotives alone, 450 on freight cars, and 150 on passenger cars. The whole plant covers 57 acres.

A Fine Team.

W. L. Keeney of Golden Hill has a span of four and five year old, jet black, Morgan mares, that take the cake of any other team which comes to this town. They are sisters, and so near alike in size and looks, as to be almost indistinguishable. Though nominally roadsters, Mr. Keeney does general farm work with them.—Laceyville Messenger.

NEWS OF THE GRANGE

Conducted by A. T. Lilley.

During the past few days, 19 of the 36 granges of Bradford county report a total of 101, as the number of additions to the said granges during the past three months. The lecturers of 15 of these granges have regular programs prepared by the lecturers for the purpose of entertaining the members of the Grange. The secretaries of 14 of these granges report that the Literary Exercises go to make up the most entertaining and profitable part of the grange exercises. The most of these granges report no lack of good entertainment. A few report that the members are either backward about discussing the subjects assigned and that occasionally the lecturers make mistakes by giving out subjects to parties who are not masters of thoughts desired to be brought out. But it should be apparent to all that if all were well informed on all the subjects that have to do with rural life there would be no necessity for spending time that now seems essential to teach the farmer how to gain and maintain all the rights and privileges belonging to himself and family.

Every member of the grange would work wonders for any worthy cause if always ready and willing to join with a worthy secretary in the thought and spirit as shown in answer to request to prepare a paper on a given subject for Pomona Grange. The reply reads: "Your kind invitation received. Thank you for it. Our Grange will be pleased to prepare a paper on the subject assigned. I cannot tell you the name of the person who will prepare it, or read it, at present. Our Worthy Lecturer has given her word (and it is good) that it shall be done. We are taking the question for discussion at our next meeting."

To show what some of the 19 granges were talking about at last meeting the following is noted:

West Granville—"What effect would Postal Savings Banks have on children?" "Should parents pay their children wages before they become of age?" "Have any of our farmers got the 'hook worm disease?'" "Can alfalfa be grown successfully in Granville?"

Iona—"A very interesting contest in the 'unwritten work' was the main feature of the evening."

Smithfield—"J. N. Harris gave the result or proceeds of his dairy for the past year which was very interesting and suggestive."

Granville Center—"Business of the Farmer." "Keeping the boys on the Farm." Planting the right kind of corn for ensilage." "Making good roads." "Which makes the cheaper kind of fuel for this section, coal or wood?"

Ulster—"Cultivation of corn and alfalfa."

Lime Hill—"How to make garden and best result, one good point was 'use 20 parts lime and two parts sulphur and sprinkle a little in each hole in which to set cabbage and you will have no club foot cabbage.'"

Columbia—"Sheep industry." "Does education have a tendency to make a person discontented on the farm?" "A demonstration of grafting and budding trees was given." "A talk was given on conservation on Arbor Day." "Equal suffrage." "The almost unanimous sentiment was that the privilege shauld be granted without asking."

Valley—"Should women have the right to vote."

Standing Stone—"Does it make any difference in planting flower seeds whether you go by the signs of the moon?" "Some thought it did and some thought it did not."

Wesauking—"The social side of the grange."

New Albany—"Is lime a plant food?" "A general discussion was entered into in regard to its use." Question Box.

Beech Flats—(Three miles south from Canton toward Wheelerville) "Can a good lively grange build up the morals of a community?" "Is there any good to be derived from the laboring man's union?" "Pure milk."

Open Hand—"What should be the wife's part in buying household supplies?" "Is it advisable to keep horses on the same diet?" "Will alsike clover make second crop?" "The questions were discussed by all the members present after which Robert Mason gave a very interesting description of a recent visit to Washington, D. C."

Central—"Which is the best kind of corn for this section?" "The most of the members said 'yellow flint.'" The following discussed and carried in negative: "Resolved that country life is preferable to town or city life."

Overton—"Questions of farming and legislation discussed."

Union—"Resolved, that the present state law in regard to care of roads is not to the best interests of the roads and taxpayers,' 'discussed and adopted. "Best breeds of cattle and the most profitable way of disposing of calves."

Members who wish to attend Pomona grange at Beech Flats on the 26th and 27th will be met at the morning trains on the 26th at Canton or Wheelerville, provided early notice is sent to D. A. Stevenson, Master, Canton, R. D. No. 71.

State Master W. T. Creasy writes that he expects to be present the evening of the 26th to speak at the open session of Pomona Grange.

The question box will be open to receive questions at any time during the Pomona session, but the earlier the better. The Pomona session is sure to be what the members make it. Lets be on time and each one act his or her part well so that hereafter no member of the grange will be asking: "Where is Beech Flats and how do you get there?"

A 23 mile drive from Towanda to East Canton and then a south-west drive of three miles will find an ideal place where a grange hall faces a church and school house. This trio ought to be remembered as the guides to all educational interests required to grow an energetic community possessing all the intelligence and zeal that education can foster to make a man happy in the thought of getting riches for both the mind and body. This, too, is the spot that someone said: "If oil is ever found in Bradford county, it will be at this point."

The sun will continue to give out its present amount of heat for 30 million years.

UP-TO-DATE SYSTEM OF NEWS GATHERING

Towanda Printing Company Has One of the Best.

When a person glances over a newspaper, big or small, if they are at all observing, they are apt to wonder where all the news comes from. It is a long story to tell how the metropolitan papers gather their news and when it is stated that it is through a news agency, but a faint idea is to be had of what that agency consists of, which in reality is nothing more or less than a well drilled and reliable army of reporters scattered all over the world.

There are many wonderful newspapers in America, but none are so wonderful that they cover the news of the world, each striving to cover a certain territory. Take the Philadelphia morning papers for instance. They endeavor to cover Pennsylvania, and they do it very well, handling all the important news through a corps of special correspondents. Pennsylvania, or at least the Eastern part of the Keystone state is the legitimate field of the Philadelphia morning papers, and they have many readers in this section. So much for the city papers.

The Towanda Printing Company claims Bradford county as the field for The Daily Review and the Reporter-Journal, and having subscribers to both these papers in every section of the county aim to cover every section for news.

With this intention in mind, one of the most extensive and complete news gathering systems ever planned has been established and is now a part of the business. Not only are there correspondents in every town and village who send weekly news letters, but in addition to this there are special correspondents whose duty it is to notify this office as soon as anything out of the ordinary takes place.

Out of the ordinary means a death, accident, robbery, fire, elopement, murder, suicide, assault in which an arrest is made. These correspondents are in telephonic touch with over 5,000 families in this county, which means that they are in touch with at least three fourths of the entire population of the county. As soon as anything out of the ordinary occurs these special correspondents notify the office, and the next morning the item appears in The Review. If such items are a day late in being published it is because the correspondents could not get the information to The Review. This is something which cannot be avoided, as is proven day by day by the big city papers which contain many items today which should have been printed yesterday or the day before.

This newsgathering system is very expensive, and costs the Towanda Printing Company a pretty penny each month, but nothing is too good for the readers of The Review and the Reporter-Journal. If every township in the county should have a fire in one day, you would read of it in The Review the next morning, and so with other items of general interest.

The Towanda Printing Company claims that this is the most complete and extensive news gathering system used or employed by a daily or weekly paper outside the big cities.

This week's issue of the Reporter-Journal contains correspondence letters from sixty different towns and villages in Bradford county, practically covering the entire county. The Reporter-Journal is in a class by itself having the largest circulation of any country weekly in Pennsylvania, and the publishers challenge comparison of any county weekly in the country as to the territory covered in its news columns.

All this news is first published in The Review which covers a territory equal to that of the Reporter-Journal daily instead of weekly. The big news gathering service just added gives these papers a feature not to be found in another publishing house outside of the big centres of population.

Good Catch.

S. W. Cranmer of Springfield, Oregon, who was a former resident of Bradford county and who is now located in the Northwest sends a picture post card to ths office showing the result of a recent fishing trip he made in the streams near his home in Oregon. He says: "I see great accounts in the home papers from Pennsylvania of fine catches of trout this Spring. I have fished all over Bradford and Sullivan counties and up the Schraeder branch and Millstone creeks and the Towanda creek from Hagerman's mill to Paines' old saw mill, but never had such luck as I have had here. The trout season here opens on April 1, and when the season was about a week old I went out for one half day and the result, the picture on this card, shows 27 fine trout, and on my way home cast in a pond near here and got three chubs the largest one weighing 3 lbs. 14 oz., and the others weighed over 2 pounds each. I got them all alone and didn't meet any boy fishing either. Some day I shall go over to the river where they catch salmon half a man's length, then perhaps I shall write again."

Advertised Letters.

A delightful meeting of the Towanda Musical Society was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. W. J. Ruggles. The program was varied by a charming talk on Strelezki and Dudley Buck by Mrs. George R. Hill. LOCAL OPTION FORCES TO CAMPAIGN THE STATE

Hot After Legislative and Senatorial Candidates.

The Pennsylvania State Anti-Saloon League will take an active part in the primary elections for the nominations of State Senators and members of the House of Representatives on June 4. It is the plan to carry the fight into every district where hte issues can be joined on local option. The campaign opens with a big meeting in Scranton and will be continued until the third day of June.

The league headquarters have taken steps to ascertain the local option sentiments of every man for whom a nominating petition has been filed at the Capitol and are in touch with local leaders regarding the men. A complete list of all aspirants has been prepared for the use of peonle interested in the work throughout the State, so that the general character of the fight may be understood.

"Our big fight will be at the primaries," said Rev. Dr. Charles W. Carroll in speaking of the plans of the league, "and we will make it in every district where we have a show. Even in Philadelphia and Allegheny we propose to make the issue. The campaign will be vigorously prosecuted."

The league has arranged for Seaborn Wright, Rome, Ga.; John S. Rutledge, Columbus, O.; Judge W. A. Covington, Moultrie, Ga.; John S. Rutledge, Columbus, O.; Judge W. A. Covington, Moultrie, Ga., and G. C. Young, Louisville Ky., to come into Pennsylvania and make speeches.

The league is in touch with numerous aspirants for the Legislature in the rural counties and have already started the campaign in their interest at an early day.

Criminal Offense.

Jostick Kintroskie of Nanticoke, charged with felonious wounding in accdentally shooting a young girl at Nanticoke nearly four months ago, was before Judge Lynch at Wilkes-Barre Thursday on a habeas corpus hearing, but after testimony was taken in the case the prisoner was remanded in default of $1,500 bail for his appearance at court. Judge Lynch held that the careless handling of a weapon was a criminal offense. The defendant stated that he entered a room where Mary Stavitski, the victim of the shooting, and another woman were sitting. Noticing a revolver on a trunk he picked it up to examine it when it was discharged, the bullet striking the girl in the head.

Eels Eat Small Fish.

Thirteen small black bass were found in the stomach of an eel caught at Apalachin a few days ago. This proves conclusively that this snake species of fish prey on the small game fish and no method for their extermination should be barred. It is maintained by fishermen that the carp and pickerel also destroy the spawn and young fish of the game variety. The latter being classed a gamey fish is perhaps exempt, but the cary with the eel should be exterminated if possible.

Lehigh Officials Here.

J. F. McGuire general manager of the Lehigh Valley, G. L. Moore engineer of maintenance of way, W. Kennedy division engineer and G. F. Petrie uniform inspector, arrived in Towanda on a special train Wednesday, and spent the night in Towanda. This morning they will travel over the Bernice branch to Wilkes-Barre for the purpose of inspection. While in Towanda last evening, accompanied by J. Frank Patterson, a personal friend of Mr. McGuire, the members of the party visited the new home of the Towanda Printing company and inspected the plant.

Have You Been Counted?

Any person or family in this, the tenth census district of Pennsylvania who have not been visited or counted the census enumerator should notify Supervisor Wilt at once. Don't wait but notify Mr. Wilt at once.

Big Verdict.

At Syracuse last week Harry Vail, aged 22, who had both arms torn off on a shaft in the Century Sanitary Mfg. Co. plant obtained a verdict for $41,000 against the company.

Fine New Machine.

John Wooster of LeRoy, has purchased from the Westinghouse company a fine new No. 2 thresher. Mr. Wooster has all new up-to-date, and one of the best threshing and silo filling outfits in the county.

To be knocked down with great force by a Southern Cambria trolley car, then to have the car pass over him for its entire length, and to come out with nothing more than a few bad cuts and lacerations, was the ordeal of 3year-old William Marsden, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Marsden, of Conemaugh. The lad ran in frno f ttoeh car, which was going at a high rate of speed. Luckily he fell in the middle of the rails, and was not even rendered unconscious.He will be about again in a week or two.

Two Fingers Amputated.

Francis, the four year old son of Mrs. Jacob Grell of Sayre, had two fingers of his left hand crushed by a bicycle chain on Monday evening, and he was taken to the People's hospital where the fingers were amputated by Dr. W. J. Higgins. A number of his playmates had turned the bike on its handle bars and were revolving the wheels by turning the pedals. Out of curiosity Francis stuck his hand on the chain and, his fingers were drawn into the cogs. The little fellow's fingers were fastened so tight that it was necessary to cut the chain with a hatchet.

Sanitary Stalls and Rotary Adjustable Stanchions

the most up-to-date and practical cow stablings in the world.

The Adjustable Stanchions are of an entirely new type and have no equal. The only stanchions which enable you to line cows up on the gutter perfectly. They adjust six inches either forward or back for cows of different lengths. They are steel, wood-lined, chain hanging and allow the most perfect freedom of movement of cows, standing or lying down. The Mangers (furnished any length) are strong sheet steel, reinforced by angle iron and provide for easy cleaning and indoor watering. Trough in cement floor forms bottom. Counter weights raise mangers over cows' heads for cleaning trough and turning in water—the ideal arrangement for cleanliness and convenience. Stall Partitions are 2½-inch steel pipes. No overhead bracing. Room for all attentions, cows turn easily, easily kept clean. The whole is the most open, neatest, cleanest, most convenient and substantial cow stabling arrangement ever perfected, bar none. Write for free book of particulars. It will open your eyes on ideal cow stabling. We make five styles of stanchions, steel and wood stalls, and full line of dairy supplies. Address
